Dedication

A barren desert, devoid of water, inhabitants, or greenery. Now a modern progressive farmland ranking high in the rate of productivity throughout the nation. Now a valley resplendent with fine old Mexican customs, traditional Western rodeos, and tales of the hardships endured by the pioneers in our Imperial Valley. Pioneers, who risking all they possessed, struck out in a new realm of potential for success, most with nothing but determination to their names. Those were the men who have made our present valley thrive. We dedicate our current efforts to further this great belief in a better future. By those preceding us may we be similarly inspired to promote progress in the many fields of education and thereby develop a higher degree of civilization.

Foreword

We wish to express our thanks for the opportunity of helping to create an annual for the purpose of forever enclasp the memories of the events of the school year 1963-1964. It has been our pleasure to work on the annual, and we hope that others may derive from it enjoyment and wonderful memories such as we already have.

The modern world is deluged with the written word. It is impossible to read even a fractional part of all that is written. One must pick and choose because of the staggering quantity offered. Unfortunately, much that is published is manufactured and possesses little creativity or original thought. Much is pre-digested and a recital of the obvious.

Read authors in their original literary works, not their rapid condensations. Resist the painless and the easy approach to knowledge. Let your own standards reach higher and higher in judging the novel and the important.

Student Council

The job of being student body president is not an easy one. It is a job of honor and prestige but it is also one that demands hard work. I did my very best to be a good student body president and to keep our high school great has always been my chief goal.

I thank you with the utmost sincerity both for letting me serve you and for the wonderful cooperation you have given me. This year has been a good one and I hope each one of you will enjoy high school as much as I have.
